

For your AP Seminar summer assignment, you have a fantastic opportunity to craft a personal photo essay that not only reflects your identity but also showcases your creativity and perspective. You are basically introducing yourself to the class and showing us what interests you. Pictures should be of you or ones you have taken unless you are teaching us about something you are learning about not

